

MOSCOW PRIVATE WEALTH FORUM: IMPORTANT ASPECTS OF MANAGING MAJOR CLIENTS' PRIVATE CAPITAL

VEGAS LEX Tax Practice associate Nikolay Rudomanov has spoken about some practical aspects of the government's anti-offshore policy at the Moscow Private Wealth Forum.

On March 10, 2016 VEGAS LEX Tax Practice associate Nikolay Rudomanov spoke about practical aspects of deoffshorization at the session on Deoffshorization and CFC: Current situation and outlook for the future at the Fifth Moscow Private Wealth Forum*.

The expert began with explaining the basics of the anti-offshore policy aimed at bringing back capital from foreign tax havens, thoroughly discussed the Finance Ministry's approaches to applying the CFC rules and the specifics of granting privileges under international tax agreements; he also gave specific examples of tax disputes.

The forum participants discussed, inter alia, the anti-crisis strategy for the investment and financial sector, the best strategy for portfolio diversification with the help of real estate and Private Equity, and alternative investments for private investors and so forth.

For more information on VEGAS LEX's tax law projects, please go here.