The current crisis of political systems in the face of the COVID-19 pandemic

SPEAKER: VLADIMIR YAKUNIN

Vladimir Yakunin, Doctor of Political Science, Head of State Policy Department, Lomonosov Moscow State University, and visiting professor at the Stockholm School of Economics in Russia, will discuss the current systemic crises and invite participants to debate these and other issues:

- Will national governments be able to cope with current challenges, show leadership and regain the trust of the citizens?
- What will globalization look like after the pandemic?
- Is a new architecture of "another world" waiting for us around the corner, or will we have to watch each other from behind the fences of "vaccine nationalism", "protectionism" and regionalisation?
