

'Creating a new Employee Benefits model in post pandemic world'

25th November | 1 PM GMT / 4 PM Moscow Time

Moderators

Norman Uhde
In2Matrix

Alf Torrents
RBCC

Panelists

Gerard Baltazar
In2Matrix

Jan Podstata
GEB

Wim Moldenaers
IGP

Global Covid-19 pandemic and increasing uncertainty continue putting most businesses to the test.

In the current Covid climate, at In2Matrix we are hosting series of innovative and engaging webinars to address the current issues employers face when it comes to Employee Benefits. Our webinars are focused at providing relevant expertise, support and value to employers to enable them to navigate a brand new dynamic of running their business.

In our next free live webinar, we will be taking a deep dive into important, and perhaps less-familiar topics surrounding Group Risk. Group Risk products such as Life, Disability and Income Protection are key employee benefits for many employers but the substantial non-financial benefits offered by such policies are not always well understood. Hence the potential for making those more effective is not achieved by most employers.

This webinar session will examine some of the benefits that are offered under Group Risk products and provide optimization strategies which is the question often asked by employers in light of worldwide pandemic.

Speakers will discuss how Group Risk products can be used by employers to help them achieve objectives around human capital such as wellbeing, absence and mental health, as well as how the employers can ensure they are getting full value from their current and future Group Risk products.

01/ 'Consolidation of group risk benefits to optimize effectiveness'

Gerard Baltazar, In2Matrix, The Netherlands

02/ 'Multinational Pooling'

Jan Podstata, Generali Employee Benefits (GEB), Czech Republic

03/ 'The advantages and hurdles of placing local employee benefits into a captive arrangement'

Wim Moldenaers, International Group Program (IGP), Belgium