

April 1, 2024

Moscow, Russia

KKMP strengthens its dispute resolution practice

KKMP reinforces its leadership positions in the Russian legal consulting market: on April 1, 2024, the firm welcomed a dispute resolution team led by partner Stanislav Dobshevich, which also includes senior associates Natalia Andreeva and Alexey Chernyshev, as well as associates Mikhail Blat and Kirill Palushin.

Stanislav Dobshevich's team specializes in resolving complex Russian and international legal disputes, representing clients in international commercial arbitration in Russia and abroad, and providing support for disputes in international investment arbitration. Their expertise includes resolving complex corporate conflicts involving foreign parties, construction disputes, and disputes arising from financial transactions.

Stanislav Dobshevich is a prominent representative of the new generation of Russian litigators. His clients include well-known Russian and foreign financial institutions, major Russian state-owned companies, as well as leading industrial groups and holdings. Stanislav has defended clients' interests in proceedings under the rules of ICC, SCC, LCIA, HKIAC, SIAC, UNCITRAL, as well as the ICAC at the Chamber of Commerce and Industry of the Russian Federation. He also has significant experience in resolving sanctions disputes.

Stanislav is recommended among the leading international arbitration professionals by Best Lawyers and Pravo-300. He has been a member of the Moscow Bar Association since 2017, serves as an arbitrator at the Russian Arbitration Center, and is the author of a number of publications on the protection of investments abroad. Stanislav graduated with honors from the Moscow State Law Academy and received his LL.M. from NYU Law, specializing in international dispute resolution. Prior to joining KKMP, he led the dispute resolution practice at a prominent Russian law firm.

Alyona Kucher, Senior Partner at KKMP, said: "The addition of Stanislav's team is a strategically important step for our firm. Their profound dispute resolution expertise will further enhance our ability to meet the demands of our clients, and the brilliant market reputation of Stanislav's team once again demonstrates our commitment to recruiting the best professionals in the industry."

Stanislav Dobshevich: "Joining KKMP is an opportunity to expand my horizons and work with excellent world-class professionals. I am grateful to the partners for their trust and appreciation of my skills. I am confident that our joint efforts will not only lead to professional success but also set new standards for legal advice."

.....

Kucher Kuleshov Maximenko & Partners (KKMP) is an independent Russian law firm founded by the former Moscow team of Debevoise & Plimpton LLP, a world leader in the legal market.

We have retained key lawyers and all practice areas developed during almost three decades of Debevoise & Plimpton LLP's presence in Russia. Our clients continue working with the familiar team that provides world class legal services of highest professional and ethical standards. Our lawyers are recognized by Chambers & Partners, Legal 500, IFLR1000, Best Lawyers, Pravo-300, Kommersant, RAA Legal Guide and Rossiyskaya Gazeta.

KKMP team represents leading companies in the largest and most complex transactions, projects and disputes in Russia and abroad. Over the past 12 months, the we have advised on projects and transactions involving assets and securities worth approximately one trillion rubles.

Press contact: Karina.Korobeynikova@kkmp.legal