

VEGAS LEX DISCUSSES “ODD MAN OUT” ARRANGEMENT AT IMEDA ROUNDTABLE

The International Medical Device Manufacturers Association (IMEDA), together with the law firm VEGAS LEX, organized a roundtable on the development of legislation regulating the sale of medical products in Russia and the EAEU.

On April 22, 2016, VEGAS LEX hosted a roundtable on the development of legislation regulating the sale of medical products in Russia and the EAEU, organized jointly with IMEDA Association*.

Manager of Life sciences projects Maria Borzova spoke about the recent practice of applying the legally documented “odd man out” arrangement in public procurement of essential drugs as well as certain types of medical devices (Government Resolution No. 102), citing specific examples from judicial practice.

The participants also discussed the possibility of legalizing parallel imports of medical products in Russia and the EAEU, as well as compulsory licensing and other issues.

***

IMEDA (International Medical Device Manufacturers Association) is a noncommercial organization that was established in 2005. IMEDA unites international manufacturers of medical equipment, devices, and supplies that are represented on the Russian market. Today IMEDA is comprised of over 40 of the world's leading high-tech medical companies.

<http://en.imeda.ru/>

For more information on VEGAS LEX's services in the pharmaceutical industry, please go here.